

CANADA AND USA SHIPPING

Updated 19th October 2025

19th October

Australia Post has resumed shipping to Canada. All of our Canadian parcels have been sent and some have arrived already. Please keep in mind that the strike is not over and rotating strikes by Canada Post may delay some deliveries.

Thank you for your patience

18TH OCTOBER Canada

Canada Posts revolving strikes are still preventing Australia Post from accepting any parcels for shipment to Canada. Blush Book Box has friends at Canada Post, and we have family and friends who live in Canada who are keeping us up to date on the rotating strikes. At the moment, all Canadian parcels are here at our warehouse waiting for shipping and we will get them out the moment Auspost opens up for shipping to Canada. Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

15th October USA

All boxes sent to our USA trial customers have been received with no issues and more importantly, no costs to our customers. We are now labelling and sending out the boxes today. Thank you for your patience as we waded through the new Tariff rules.

9th September

Australia Post has updated their business customers that they plan to resume postal services to the United States (US) and its overseas territories on or before, Thursday 25 September 2025.

This resumption follows changes the US Government made to customs and import tariff rules, which saw Australia Post, along with numerous other international postal operators, make the decision to temporarily suspend partial postal services to the US, Puerto Rico, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, US Virgin Islands and US Minor Outlying Islands.

Blush Book Box has already signed up with the recommend services to enable an expedited transition to the new Tariff system. This will hopefully allow the outstanding Pride Boxes to be shipped quickly after postal services resume. Thank you for your patience.

Please note, all future US Sales will be dispatched directly from our US based warehouse.

31st August 2025

Unfortunately, our Eliah Greenwood sale today has been temporarily postponed. Sorry for the short notice.

With the uncertainty of costs to be applied to our products by the US Government, we could not, in good conscience, sell a product where there may be a chance that our American customers may be charged an additional $80 USD when their box arrives. Most postal services around the world have paused delivery to the US, including our Australia Post.

Postage changes:

From the combined desks of Blush Book Box, The Petite Romance Co., and The Plot Twist Card Co.

All future sales for our American customers will be distributed from our new US-based warehouse. Sales to the rest of the world will still be posted from Australia

We thank you for your patience as we, and the world, navigate through these tariffs.
